CARLISLE HIGH SCHOOL

DEDICATION

Because all the four years of our high school life, Miss Ware has been for us teacher and friend--

Because as teacher, she has shown us how to take both victories and defeats as stepping stones to further achievements--

Because in the classroom she has taught us many lessons more valuable than those found in text books--

Because she is sincerely interested in the welfare of each individual student-- do we, the Class of 1940, as an expression of our appreciation of a leader and comrade, dedicate this volume.

CLASS OF '40

Class of '40

"Twelve Years in a Classroom"

Once upon a time, so all good stories begin, but to be specific it was the fall of 1928, a new batch of kiddies was crammed into the "Old Mill of Learning" at Carlisle for a twelve year grind that would or should turn out a finished product of marvelous wisdom. Incidentally that was the year the school board ordered everything loose nailed down, and a fresh supply of paddles was purchased. Miss Norma Wessels was the lucky teacher who initiated us infant prodigies to the mysteries of "'readin', 'ritin', and 'rithmetic.'" Of the original class of twenty there are but six who have come all the way together--Faye Davidson, Pat Foulke, Harold Lewis, Ruth Perkins, Phyllis Lamb, and Roland Ellison. As the other members dropped out, new ones came to take their places to help us heckle the teachers.

The chapters of our sage were counted off as quickly as a referee counts out a Joe Louis' challenger and the teachers, "Oh Noble Martyrs of Public Education", we mention here as milestones of our progress.

First Grade--Norma Wessels
Second Grade--Agnes Ross
Third Grade--Mildred Patterson
Fourth Grade--Pearl Brewer

Fifth Grade--Hildegard Bergstrom
Sixth Grade--Dorothy Fudge
Seventh Grade--Hallie Flanders
Eighth Grade--Eithel Luce

Who of us will ever forget the night we were graduated from the eighth grade? Our play, "Where's Grandma?", the graduation exercises, the girls' white dresses, yellow roses for all, and Mr. Prall's presentation of the diplomas "just like high school".

1936--Freshman Year

This was the year that the Carlisle public school fittingly celebrated the advent of the class of '40 to high school by dedicating the splendid new gymnasium September 7, 1936 (That ain't the way I heard it, Johnny!) Mr. Homer Baker, supt., Miss Bernice Ware, Miss Beatrice Watland, and Harry Kruchten were the faculty. Mr. Kruchten was guardian angel to twenty-two of us that year and we enjoyed many class parties, in the "gym", coasting on Pralls hill, weinners roasts in the park. The big affair of the Freshie year was on May 14, 1937 when our class went to Des Moines for a picnic supper and a show. Do you sophisticated Seniors remember how we all rode there in the back of Leftwich's truck?

1937--Sophomore Year

The faculty for our sophomore year was composed of Mr. M. C. Hickman, supt., Mr. Sherman, principal and coach, Miss Beatrice Watland, and Bernice Ware. Miss Ware was our class sponsor. One of the high lights of this year was the play, "The Neighbors" given by the Home Economics class, and the high school orchestra went to Iowa City to the State Music Contest.

1938--Junior Year

This year the school board added another member to the faculty, Miss Lois Hostetter. No doubt it was necessary so the teachers could "keep up" with the ambitious junior students, don't you think, or do you? Mr. (and Mrs.) Sherman were chaperons this year at our usual class parties. (Remember the night we went roller skating?) The Junior class play "Aunt Cindy Cleans Up" provided lots of fun at rehearsals but some embarrassing moments on the fatal night. The high school orchestra went to Iowa City for the State Music Contest on May 4, 5, 6, 1939. The big moment of the year, however, was the Junior-Senior banquet held at Younkers Tea Room, May 1, 1939.

1939--1940--Senior Year

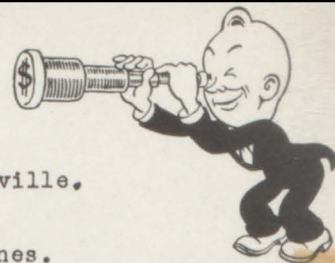

At last we are one of those awe inspiring things, a Senior. We are back for a last whirl in the old mill. Miss Lyla Olson, Miss Genevieve Lillie, Mr. Howard Dugan, new faculty members, fervently agree with Mr. Hickman and Miss Ware that it won't be long now until we shall be 16 "finished products of marvelous wisdom." We've murdered the King's English and slain the green eyed dragon of assignments. A few more all too short weeks for a Senior play, Junior-Senior banquet, sneak day, and the commencement week activities. Then we shall have reached the last chapter in the book "Twelve Years in a Class Room." Thus the story will end to begin anew leaving our thumb prints and dog ears on the pages of time.

Bursts and Duds

ODE TO LILLIE

Don't worry if your job is small,
And your rewards are few;
Remember that the mighty oak,
Was once a nut like you.

Pat F.: "I wish I could be like a river."
Faye: "In what way?"
Pat F.: "Stay in my bed and still follow
my course."

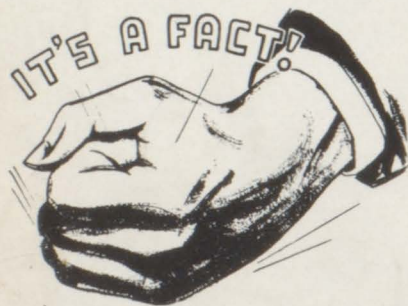

LOST!

One set of slightly used brains.
When last seen was wandering out the window of Physics class. May be identified by small amount of grey matter and also smooth condition of said grey matter. If found, recondition return to Mary Edna Marsh. No reward.

Senior: "You ugly looking mug; you dope;
you bum; I could kill you. Just to look at you makes me sick!!!"
Freshie: "You mean you don't like me?"

Jack Crouse: "My father was an electrician."

Bob Prall: "Yes, and you were his first big shock."

HICKMAN

Dugan: "Has anyone asked you out to dinner tonite?"

Ruth P.: (eagerly) "No, I'm quite free."

Dugan: "Well then maybe you will be on time tomorrow morning."

Miss Olson: "Name the principal parts of a sentence."

Bob Cole: "Solitary confinement and bread and water."

Bob Rothfus: "Can a person be punished for something he hasn't done?"

Miss Olson: "Certainly not."

Bob: "Well, I haven't done my English."

"Engaged to five girls at once!" exclaimed
Mr. Schooler. "How do you explain such a situation?"

William: "I don't know, unless cupid shot me with a machine gun."

Bob James: "Your girl uses plenty of make-up."

Ed. B.: "Yeah, she's my powdered sugar."

Warning

Everytime you bite your fingernails,
remember what happened to Venus.

Little words of wisdom
Many words of bluff
Make the teachers tell us--
"Sit down, that's enough."

Glenn Crumb: "Dearest your stockings are wrinkled."

Edna G.: "You brute! I haven't any on."

GEORGE

Ware: "You've wasted fifteen minutes
turning over the pages of your history;
what are you looking for?"

Leslie: "I'm trying to find out who General Delivery was."

Evelyn B.: "Say something soft and sweet
to me."

Ed B.: (fondly) "Custard Pie."

ON A PARK BENCH

Bill Hardin: "Darling, while we are here in the moonlight I would like to ask you."

Dolores: "Yes, dear; go on."

Bill: "Could you move over a little, I'm sitting on a nail."

"The Black out"

express it, but I have it in my head."

DO YOU REMEMBER

The time you swore that you would, on graduation night, tell Miss Lillie just where and how to head in?

The first time you saw a hat just like your "fresh from Sears" one coming down the street on a person whom you considered just a tiny bit lower in social prestige than yourself?

When the fellow you had such a heavy crush on asked your most thoroughly disliked enemy for a date?

When one of the intelligent looking junior boys walked into a jewelery store in Indianola and asked for some hair oil?

The day that Mr. Hickman applied the rod to four of the sophomore lads?

The time that the high school kids had that "little kids disease" the measles?

The night a certain junior boy upset his car in the Rothfus driveway?

Who the fellow was that you had your first date with?

Do you remember of ever seeing a certain junior girl without her lipstick?

MY
